THE MIGRATORY BIRD TREATY ACT

It is illegal for any person or persons to interfere with the nesting of migratory birds. "Interfere" is defined to include by any means or any manner, an attempt to hunt, pursue, wound, ill, possess or transport any migratory bird, nest, egg or part thereof. To do so is a violation of federal law and is punishable by fine, imprisonment or both.

It is the mission of the Maryland Bluebird Society (MBS) to increase the population of Eastern Bluebirds and other native cavity-nesting birds through conservation, education, and research.
